

In Society Circles

Society seems to have robed herself in sackcloth, liberally sprinkled with ashes. Sewing clubs and teas to raise funds for charity constitute the amusement of society followers during the days of prayer and fasting. This suddenly assumed demeanor suits the grand dame well. It is a change, and above all, society loves a change.

During the past few weeks society affairs have been gradually falling off, and the past week has been unusually quiet.

The time for receptions has been observed, the affairs of the past week having been of that nature.

A unique entertainment, which will be given in the near future, has been planned by the members of the Unity circle. The affair will be called "Tom Thumb's Wedding," the participants all being under 7 years of age, and wearing full court costumes, with powdered hair. The bride and groom and attendants will be under 4 years and will be chosen from the beauties of babyland.

Mr. Nat Brigham, who witnessed a similar performance in San Francisco, will have the affair in charge. He will be assisted by a number of ladies from the Unity circle.

The reception given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. David Dunbar in honor of the members of the legislature was the most brilliant affair of the week. Four hundred and fifty invitations had been sent out, which included, besides the legislature, all state officials, the supreme court and district court judges, as well as many of the leading society people.

The decorations throughout were beautiful and effective. The large parlors were adorned with palms and white roses, while the library was in red. In this room punch was served by Miss Preston. The dining room, which was presided over by Mrs. Joseph E. Caine, Mrs. Willard Young and Miss Hattie Jennings, was decorated in pink and green. In the hallway, coffee was served by Miss Hooper. This corner was half hidden with huge palms, and was one of the prettiest corners in the house. Olsen's orchestra was also stationed in the hall, the programme played being an unusually attractive one.

Miss Webster and Miss Ethelyn Weber entertained the Bicycle Club Wednesday evening. "63" was played, and the prizes were won by Miss Kiesel and Mr. Leon. The guests were Miss Shearman, Miss Kiesel of Ogden, Miss Edna Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Park, Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby, Miss Park, Miss Katz, Mr. Nye, Mr. Hampton, Mr. Franken, Mr. Leon and Mr. Alma Katz.

Mr. Henry McCormick is down from Park City.

An informal luncheon was given on Wednesday by Miss Lawrence.

Mrs. Jones was the guest of honor at a card party given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Theron Geddes. The decorations, consisting of daffodils and violets, were extremely dainty. "Sixty-three" was played, the prizes being won by Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Markland and Mrs. T. C. Bailey.

Mr. Nat Brigham has returned from California.

Miss Neely Stevens, who has many friends in the city, received a warm welcome on her appearance Tuesday evening at the recital at the Congregational church.

Miss Cash has returned from New Orleans.

On Wednesday evening the 14 supporters of Judge Henderson, in his contest for United States senator, surprised the judge at his home on E street by calling and presenting him with a large picture, handsomely framed, containing the pictures of Judge and Mrs. Henderson, and each of the supporters of the judge.

At midnight Senator Shurtliff, in a few well chosen remarks, presented the picture, and, although greatly surprised, Judge Henderson composed himself sufficiently to thank the men who had supported him so ably and to whom the gift would always be most highly prized, both by himself and Mrs. Henderson, and would in the future occupy a prominent place in their home.

Mrs. Henderson was assisted in entertaining the guests by her niece, Miss Reynolds of Michigan, and Mrs. Hamer, who favored those present by a few vocal selections, among them being "Ben Bolt." Refreshments were also served during the evening. Those present were Senator and Mrs. Hamer, Senator and Mrs. Rideout, Senator Shurtliff, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Kimball, Judge King, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Oveson, Mr. H. Greenwood, Mr. H. H. Perkins, Mr. Duffin, Mr. McKay, Speaker Perkins, Mr. Maxwell and Mr. Taylor.

Tomorrow afternoon the Dinwoody company will give a reception from 3 until 6 o'clock, which will especially appeal to the ladies, as besides serving tea from a handsomely decorated Japanese booth, there will be displayed many of the decorations from all parts of the world.

The hop at Christensen's Wednesday evening was well attended. Among those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dinwoody and Mr. Vernon Hardy.

The Daughters of the Revolution held their third regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Chisholm, 64 East Brigham street. After disposing of the regular business, the literary part of the programme was taken up, Miss Monroe giving a very able paper on Washington, which was followed by an interesting discussion of the "Domestic and Social Life of the Colonists," by Mrs. L. O. B. Cummings.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served and the remainder of the afternoon spent in a very enjoyable manner by the guests.

New members are coming in at every meeting, and it has been suggested that ladies look up their ancestry and endeavor to make the chapter a credit to the organization.

Mrs. Dr. Gemmill has been appointed historian of the chapter.

passed in music and games. Among the guests were Miss L. Dean, Miss Emma Wallace, Miss Nellie Mulhall, Miss Nellie Buckhold, Laura Newton, Lulu Gates, Miss Hamer, Miss Annie Williamson, Mr. Leslie Margotta, Frank Wiley, Ray Papworth, Joseph Haines, George Papworth, Phil Mulhall and George Rudd.

These Sunday evening concerts are proving very successful, and it will be noticed one of the purposes of this evening is one of unusual interest.

By invitation from Bishop Romney, 150 of the widows, old folks and Relief society of that ward met at 2 o'clock in the meeting-house. A fine programme had been prepared for their benefit, and at its close Bishop Romney invited the guests into the vestry, where they partook of a delicious repast.

After refreshments came a good old-fashioned dance, which was familiar to the honored guests. Before leaving for their homes the guests gave the bishop a vote of thanks, as the afternoon had proved one of the happiest days in the lives of the bishop's honored guests.

The Orpheus club, who were to have appeared at the Bimetall Blacks in the theatre on April 1, 2 and 3, have postponed their performance until the 1st of May so as not to conflict with the appearance of the Salt Lake Opera company.

The Shakespeare section of the Ladies' Literary club will meet with Mrs. Root, 70 P street, Monday afternoon at 2:30. The programme includes: "Quotations and Reading from Julius Caesar," "Plot of Julius Caesar," Mrs. Ritchie; "A Visit to Stratford," Mrs. Reid.

WOMAN'S CLUB.

"Paris, the Typical Modern City," was the subject treated by Mrs. A. B. Kinney in an exhaustive and unusually instructive talk before the Woman's club last Tuesday. Other information given by women in the audience who had for a longer or shorter period made Paris their home, added not a little to the profit and pleasure of the afternoon. Out of a large number of means employed by Paris to alleviate the burden of government, several are particularly important and ought to be thoroughly studied by our councilmen and others whose duty it is to manage the affairs of the city. Most of these methods should be adopted here in our own city in principle if not in detail.

First, the city of Paris derives an enormous revenue from the electric light, gas, street railway, cab and other franchises. The French system of granting franchises is an excellent one, inasmuch as it contributes an immense sum annually, which decreases taxation. Franchises are not given away in Paris in American fashion, but under the most stringent conditions there is no lack of capital ready for investment.

Second, the city of Paris supports a large number of trades schools, so that all the arts and trades for which Paris is noted on account of the degree of perfection attained are taught free to all children wishing to learn them.

Third, Paris has its own savings banks and pawnshops for the people, and the people reap the benefit of these institutions, not a few stockholders. The pawnshops provide a means of obtaining ready money at a very small sacrifice, so there is no advantage taken of those who can least afford to be taken advantage of.

Then the city of Paris has an improvement over ours in her school system. There the poor children are provided with food and clothing to furnish a sound body before they attempt to cultivate the mind.

Another improvement in city government in Paris is the system of putting all wires, pipes, etc., in the sewers and under the sidewalks, so that there is no tearing up of the streets for any purpose except that of repairing the paving.

Next Tuesday, March 16, at 2 o'clock, in the city and county building, the public is invited to hear Dr. Talmage on "The Economy of Waste." The good that might accrue to our city from a widespread dissemination of this knowledge of the different systems of managing all the affairs connected with city life ought to be sufficient incentive for all citizens to interest themselves in these questions.

NINETEENTH CENTURY CLUB, PROVO.

The programme for the afternoon was "American Journalists," by Mrs. Havercamp; "American Humorists, With Readings," by Mrs. Conroy. Mrs. Havercamp reviewed something of the history and the work of the most noted journalists. Readings from the humorists were given by the members in answer to roll-call. Selections were also read from Frank R. Stockton, Dr. Holmes, Bret Harte and "The Widow Bedott Papers."

Mrs. Conroy's paper on the humorists was very interesting, describing the kinds of humor in the writings of the most noted. In this list Dr. Holmes stands at the head, followed by James Russell Lowell. Others are Bret Harte, Frank R. Stockton, James Whitcomb Riley, Eugene Field and Mark Twain. After the critic's report the club adjourned.

Broken Chain

The family circle is never so happy after the chain is broken and a link taken. Some family chains are strong, others weak. Have you a good family history? Or is there a tendency to coughs, throat or bronchial troubles, weak lungs? Has a brother, sister, parent or near relative had consumption? Then your family chain is weak. Strengthen it. Take SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It makes rich blood, gives strength and vigor to weak lungs and run-down constitutions. With its aid the system throws off acute coughs and colds. It prevents the chain from breaking. Shall we send you a book about this, free?
